DETAILED ACTION

In view of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (BPAI) decision the rejection of claims 1-6 and 13-18 is reversed, the rejection of claims 7, 8 and 9-12 is affirmed, therefore claims 7, 8 and 9-12 are withdrawn from consideration and canceled by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 13, 14, 17 and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chang.

Chang discloses a device for removably mounting a hard disk drive in a memory storage housing comprising a carrier 50 for holding a hard disk, the carrier having rails to be slidably mounted in the memory storage device 30, a face plate 70, a fan 77 and a handle mounted on the face plate, an upper cover 60 having slots 62 for heat dissipation is slidably mounted on the carrier 50.

Chang discloses the claimed invention except indicating that the upper cover 60 is a heat sink or element that is absorbing some heat. The decision of BPAI includes the statement that: "it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that the ventilating slots 62 could be substituted for a finned heat sink material, or that the heat dissipation can be improved by adding fins to the cover 60 of Chan made from a heat absorbing material" (see Page 5- Page 6).

3. Claims 3, 4, 15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chang in view of Lin ,036.

Chang discloses the claimed invention, as shown above, except a filter being mounted on the faceplate. Lin discloses the removable filter mounted on the faceplate to filter air. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to have filter as disclosed by Lin in the structure disclosed by Chang to provide clean cooling air into the housing.
